

Trulite Completes Acquisition of AGC's U.S. Fabrication Assets

Deerfield Beach, Fla. – January 12, 2015 – Trulite Glass & Aluminum Solutions, LLC. (“Trulite”), one of North America’s largest architectural glass and aluminum fabricators, today announced it has finalized the acquisition of the U.S. commercial fabrication assets of AGC Glass Company North American, Inc. (“AGC”), a producer, processor and distributor of flat glass for solar applications, construction, automotive, and certain specialized industries. AGC residential assets are not part of the acquisition and will be retained by AGC. Financial terms of the private transaction were not disclosed.

“This acquisition will allow Trulite to continue to better serve our customers while broadening our national presence and working with them to improve our business,” said Paul Schmitz, Chief Executive Officer of Trulite. “This transaction is further evidence of our commitment to create the best company in the industry through continued growth and operational excellence.”

The transaction marks Trulite’s fifth acquisition since April 2011 and second acquisition in the fourth quarter of 2014, making it one of the fastest growing companies in the industry. Throughout this period of activity, Trulite has maintained its high quality standards and continued to deliver outstanding customer service.

About Trulite Glass & Aluminum Solutions

Trulite Glass & Aluminum Solutions is one of North America’s largest architectural glass and aluminum fabricators. Trulite distributes and manufactures architectural aluminum, insulated units, mirrors, tempered, laminated, and decorative glass throughout the U.S. and Canada.

For further information, please contact:

Ben Thomas
Vice President Supply Chain and Operational Support
Trulite Glass & Aluminum Solutions
800-432-8132 – Office
954-724-9293 – Fax